NOTES IN SEASON.

PORTER & COATES will publish this month "Greek Mythology Symbolized," by S. A. Scull.

E. J. HALE & SON have just ready W. H. Phillips' satire, "Who is your Wife?" in which divorce laws are severely dealt with.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have in press "Orion, and Other Poems," by Charles G. D. Roberts, and expect to have it ready shortly.

D. LOTHROP & Co. will bring out shortly an American edition of "The Englishman and the Scandinavian; or, A Comparison of Anglo-Saxon and Old Norse Literature." The next volume of the Spare-Minute series published by them will be from Thomas Hughes, entitled "True Manliness."

PRESLEY BLAKISTON, Philadelphia, has now ready the new and enlarged edition of Edward Woake's work on "Deafness, Giddiness, and Noises in the Head." In making the revision the author has availed himself of the suggestions of those who reviewed the former edition, and has obviated defects. The book is well illustrated.

D. APPLETON & Co. issue to-day their handsome "Summer Book," described in a previous issue of the WEEKLY; also Garnier's "Scientific Billiards," "Health," by Prof. W. H. Corfield, and "French Men of Letters," by Maurice Mauris, whose charming pen portraits of living French authors, we are certain, need no introduction. "A Short Life of Gladstone" is in press, and will be ready, perhaps, next week.

E. CLAXTON & Co., Philadelphia, have just ready the fourteenth thousand of Trautwine's "Civil Engineer's Pocket-Book, fully revised and corrected, and illustrated with 670 engravings from original designs. On July 25th, they will publish Roper's "Engineer's Hand-Book," containing a full explanation of the steam-engine indicator, and its use and advantages to engineers and steam users.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE August Scribner will have a paper by Mr. P. G. Hamerton on "Seymour Haden," with reproductions of Haden's etchings.

THE first number of the Rocky Mountain Mining Review has just been issued by Blake & Elliott, Denver, Col. The paper is to be devoted entirely to the mining, manufacturing, and trade interests of the West.

THE August Wide Awake will contain an account of the New York Art School for Children known as "The Children's Hour," to be fully illustrated by Jessie Curtis; also a charming society story for young girls by Nora Perry, entitled "Miss Violet." The scene is laid at Newport.

THE Modern Review is the title of a new English quarterly published by Jas. Clarke & Co., Manchester, England, and edited by R. A. Armstrong. The object of the magazine, as stated by the editor, is to afford those who agree in fervent loyalty to the principle of free inquiry, in fearless welcome to the teachings of modern science, and in deep conviction that the sanctities of faith and hope must be permanently characteristic of sound manhood, the opportunity to make their influence felt, whatever that may be, in the formation of the national thought and sentiment, is the purpose of the Modern Review. The list of contributors includes Francis Power Cobbe, John Owen, Robert Collyer, Prof. Kuenen, W. B. Carpenter, and others equally well known as among the leading thinkers and writers of England. George H. Ellis, of Boston, is the American agent.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BUCHANAN, MICH.—J. H. Roe & Co., booksellers and stationers, have gone out of business.

MARION, IND.—McGunies & Hill, booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The firm of Gebbie & Barrie was dissolved on the 12th inst. George Barrie has purchased the whole business of the old firm, and will carry it on under his name, at 615 Sansom Street.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The firm of Tibbitts & Randall, by the admission on the 1st inst. of Joseph A. Shaw, becomes Tibbitts & Shaw. The change takes place on account of the dissolution of the old firm in January, by the death of the junior partner, Mr. Foster H. Randall.

ROCHESTER, MINN.—A. B. Fall, bookseller, has sold out to A. L. Cutting.

— G. W. Cunningham, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to J. M. Porter.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nómpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: Daniel; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

6 little comedies of 2 and 3 characters: Apples; Fireflies; Picking up the pieces; Half-way to Arcady; Mabel's holy day; Heather. The London Standard says of them, "They are light, sparkling, piquant and amusing. They hit off, in the course of conversations carried on between men and women of the world, social foibles with a wit remarkable for its keenness." Author of "John-a-dreams," and "An accomplished gentleman."

Swinburne, Algernon C. Songs of the spring-tides. N. Y., R. Worthington, 1880. 4 + 135 p. D. cl., $1.75.

4 poems: Thalassius; On the cliffs; The Garden of Cymodoce; Birthday ode. The first 3 pieces are studies of the sea, the "Garden of Cymodoce" being a description of the Island of Sark; the 4th is a birthday ode to Victor Hugo, written for his anniversary festival, Feb. 26, 1880. The Academy, in criticising this work, says, "We find in 1880 the attraction of these 'Songs of the Spring-tides' as great as we found in 1864, the attraction of 'Atalanta in Corydon,' and we doubt whether higher praise could possibly be given to any poet."

Vose, Ja. E. Hand-book of grammar and analysis. Ashburnham, Mass., Ja. E. Vose, 1880. 183 p. S. cl., 60 c.

Text-book chiefly for a teacher's use; prepared by a teacher, for his own use; it presents an outline of grammar and analysis, divested of explanations, illustrations, notes etc., which the teacher may supply at his discretion.

The Publishers' Weekly.

JULY 17, 1880.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries." Notes from librarians will also be gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

POSTERS AND SLIPS.

AN active and experienced dealer requests us to urge the publishers of miscellaneous books to send out more freely posters and slips of new books. He says that he is just now carrying a nice line of summer books and has only been able to get two posters, one for "Louisiana" and one for "Odd or Even?" We do not know what the experience of the publishers is in this line, or to what extent dealers make use of the posters when they are supplied; we remember, however, unpleasantly, that when we made the attempt to meet this want by a Board-bill, which displayed the best books of the fortnight, in compact but conspicuous manner, there were so few who availed themselves of the opportunity that the undertaking had to be abandoned. There is one objection to the customary show-bills—they would in their present shape occupy too much space should the publishers all at once respond to the above request. The adoption of the small oblong show-card, say $5\frac{3}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ inches, would be more advisable, as such can be hung up in the store as well as in the window, or at the entrance, without interfering with the display of books and other articles.

It is just to add that our friend, on whose behalf we print this request, was a subscriber to the Board-bill; is a subscriber to all our publications, and uses, for distribution among his customers, editions of the Summer Number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, the Literary News, and our Slip List of Freshest Books. This Slip List, we regret to state, is going to meet the same fate, for same reasons, as the Board-bill.

Only the Literary News and the various imprint editions of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY have held their own as mediums circulated by the dealers, and have been found profitable by so many as to insure their permanent support.

PARIS LETTER.

A VERY remarkable study of the dramatic art of antiquity has just been published by Calmann Lévy. The title is "Les deux Masques," and the author Paul de Saint-Victor. The two Masks are Tragedy and Comedy. The work is divided into three series. The first series treats of the Greek drama, the second of Shakespeare, and the third of French dramatic art from the earliest period. The volume before us is devoted entirely to Æschylus, the author passing in review the Persians, the Myths of Prometheus, the Suppliants, the Seven Chiefs before Thebes, the Atrides, and Orestes with its four divisions, Agamemnon, the Choéphores, the Erynnies and the Eumenides. The second volume will treat of Sophocles, Euripides and Aristophanes.

Jouaust has published a new edition of the Mémoires of Pierre de l'Estoile. This volume contains a supplement to the Journal of Pierre de l'Estoile, never before published, on the reigns of Henry the IVth of France and his predecessor, compiled at an unknown date and printed in 1736.

Quantin has just published the third volume of the Chansons historiques de France. The volume closes at the year 1720.

Charavay frères have published a compilation of the works of Bernard Palissy by Anatole France after the original text. The headings of the different chapters are exceedingly quaint; for instance: "The true receipt by which all the men of France can learn to multiply and augment their treasures." The compiler has added to the usual treatise of Bernard Palissy one recently discovered called "An Estimate of a Grotto for the Queen-mother of the King."

Charpentier & Co. have published a work by Paul Sebillot, called "Popular Stories of Upper Brittany," consisting of a series of tales which the author professes to have learned from the Breton peasantry. Charpentier & Co. have likewise published "La Noblesse Française sous l'Ancien Régime," by Charles Louandre; "Cinq Mois au Caire," by Gabriel Charmes; "La Capitana," by Lucien Biart, and "Contes Populaires en Italie," by Marc-Monnier. "La Noblesse Française" is a very conscientious historical study, replete with facts and based upon numerous and valuable documents. The work shows great research, and is written with a strong republican bias. The main idea of its author is to show that even in our days the descendants of the old French nobility cannot resign themselves to the new state of things existing since 1789. M. Charles Louandre is of opinion that the upper classes in France are opposed to the political equality prevalent under republican institutions. "Five Months in Cairo" is a very interesting narrative of the author's impressions and observations during a short residence in Egypt. "La Capitana" is a book on Mexican life. The framework is similar to that of Lucien Biart's previous works. The Doctor Bernagius recounts how in his youth, while journeying from Orizaba to Puebla, in order to pass his examination, he fell into the hands of a band of brigands commanded by "La Capitana," and then Bernagius relates the exciting adventures which befell him. "Les Contes Populaires en Italie" is a very superior work of the kind. M. Monnier passed many years in Italy and appears well versed in the different dialects of the Italian Peninsula. He has made good use of the collections of Vittorio Imbriani, de Gubernatis, Bernoni Pitre and Madame Coronedi Berti.

Renouard has published a work which will interest many readers. It is called "L'Art à Paris," by Tullo Massarani. Art at Paris, such as M. Massarani understands it, is not Parisian art only, but modern art, such as one could judge of it from a series of visits to the picture galleries of the Paris Exhibition in 1878.

Hennuyer has published "Les Voyages du Camoëns," by Raoul de Navery. This work is a biographical sketch of the life of Camoëns, compiled from various sources, and the author presents to the public several poetical fragments by Camoëns never before published.

Dentu has just published a contemporary romance by Victor Tissot and Charles Améro, called "La Russie Rouge." It is a very good specimen of the new kind of novel, very much in vogue at present, of which the heroes and heroines are Nihilists. The book commences with a quotation from a Persian poet: "The year is but winter without end—nine months white and three months green." The object of the authors is to draw a picture of Russian life other than that of the Château, which up to this moment has been exclusively the field of French romance writers, when treating on life in Russia. M. Jules Clarétie belongs to that interesting class of beings who wash their country's uncleanness in the gaze of civilization. His new work, "La Maitresse," published by Dentu, will no doubt find readers in the United States. The book is thoroughly Parisian, and no doubt according to the author's lights is quite interesting. It contrasts the two phases of existence—life with wife and child and life with a mistress.

Ernest Renan has given to the world, under the auspices of Calmann Lévy, his Conferences in England on Rome and Christianity, delivered at the Hibbert Lectures.

Didier & Co. have published "La Ville sous l'Ancien Régime" by Albert Babeau, and "La Vie municipale au 15^{ème} siècle dans le nord de France," by Baron A. de Calonne. Both works show great research and throw great light on the subject of which they treat.

LIBRARY NOTES.

THE Kölnische Zeitung announces the death, on the 14th ult., of the Rev. Dr. Ennen, the archivist and librarian of the city of Cologne, who had a considerable reputation all over Germany for his historical investigations and knowledge. His "History of Cologne" is a work of great merit.

DURING the year ending June 30, 1880, the home circulation of the Indianapolis Public Library was 137,621 volumes, the reading-room consultation of books 59,111, and of periodicals 54,740, making a total of 251,472 pieces handled during the year. The new library building is nearly ready for occupancy, the date for removal being now fixed at about the middle of August.

ON the 13th inst., the villa of Théodore Mommsen, the distinguished German professor and antiquarian, at Charlottenburg, a suburb of Berlin, was burned down, and with it the famous Mommsen library, consisting of a very valuable collection of scientific and historical works, etc., collected with great trouble and expense from all over the world. The loss is irreparable. Professor Mommsen was severely injured by trying to save a portion of his collection.

THE Athenæum announces the death of Mr. William Henry Turner, at the age of fifty-two. He was employed for many years in the Bodleian Library, and, although self-taught, had acquired a considerable knowledge of Latin and English palæography as well as of English history, as may be seen from the following publications of his: 1. "The Visitation of the County of Oxford taken in the Year 1566 by William Harvey," etc., London, 1871; 2. "A Chronological List of all that has borne Office in the City of Oxford, 1781 to 1876" (in single sheets); 3. "Calendar of Charters and Rolls preserved in the Bodleian Library," 1878; 4. "Selections from the Records of the City of Oxford," 1880; 5. "The Index to the First Seven Volumes of the Dodsworth MSS. in the Bodleian Library" (not published).

AUTHORS AT WORK.

CHARLES YRIARTE, author of the handsome art gift-book, "Venice," is publishing, through J. Rothschild, Paris, a similar work on Florence.

DR. PEROWNE is engaged on a "Life of Bishop Thirlwall," which will include a large selection from the extensive correspondence which he maintained with the leading men of his time.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MACMILLAN & Co. have in press the second edition of Canon Farrar's new volume of sermons, "Ephphatha."

H. A. SUMNER & Co., Chicago, have just ready an edition of "Odette's Marriage," in paper, to retail at 50 c.

T. R. STODDARD, Glens Falls, has published a comprehensive guide map to the Adirondack Wilderness. Price, $1.

MR CHARLES C. HAFELFINGER will remain for the present at the head of the book department of the new firm of E. Claxton & Co.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will issue in the fall E. P. Roe's new novel, "A Day of Fate," now running as a serial in the Christian Union.

THE New York agency of L. Prang & Co. will be ready in a few days to exhibit samples of their Christmas cards and fall novelties.

HARROUN & BIERSTADT have published by the Artotype process, on a sheet 19 by 24 in., a fine portrait of Gen. Hancock. Price, $1.

MR. R. H. STODDART's article on Hawthorne, from the "Encyclopædia Britannica," has been published in pamphlet form by the Scribners.

HARPER & BROS. have in press a "History of the Colored Race in America from 1822 to 1880," by Hon. George W. Williams, of Ohio.

TAINTOR BROS., MERRILL & Co. will shortly issue a new church hymn and tune-book entitled "Christian Praise," edited by Rev. Chas. H. Richards.

R. WORTHINGTON will publish in a few days a new edition of W. L. Stone's "Reminiscences of Saratoga and Ballston," published first some five years ago by Virtue & Yorston.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in active preparation two new novels, entitled "Tit for Tat," by the Marchioness Lanzer, and "The Octagon Club," a character study, by B. M. W.

E. & F. N. SPON have just ready Fossick's "Iron Trade Chart," which will prove of considerable interest to the iron trade generally. The chart is handsomely gotten up in gold and colors, size 16 in. x 27 in.

WE are informed that the announcement by the Tribune of the publication by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. of C. P. Congdon's "Reminiscences of a Journalist," in our last issue, is not correct. It is James R. Osgood & Co. who will publish the book early in the fall.

POTT, YOUNG & Co., agents for Gall & Inglis' red line editions of Popular British Poets, announce that they are ready now to offer five new and distinct lines, which they wish the trade to bear in mind when making up their orders for the coming season.

ESTES & LAURIAT have in press for the coming season a new "Chatterbox," a new volume in the Zigzag series, and a new volume by the author of "Babyhood," besides a number of other juveniles. They are also preparing new editions of Dickens' complete works, and of the Child's History of England.

BRENTANO'S Literary Emporium is agent for "Statia's Commercial Travellers' Guide of the United States and Canada," for 1880. The Guide contains a list, alphabetically arranged, of the leading hotels at a large number of places in all the States of the Union and Canada, with the price of board and lodging at each hotel and the population of each place.

D. VAN NOSTRAND will publish in the fall an important scientific work on "Steam Boilers," by the Chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering U. S. N., Commodore W. H. Shock. The work, which is intended to be used as a text-book at the Naval Academy, will be fully illustrated in the text, and will have thirty-six steel engravings.

COPYRIGHT has just been granted to J. Francis Ruggles, a bibliophile of Bronson, Mich., for his "Great Original System of Bookselling by Means of Pictorial Diagram Tablets," or illustrated sample cards showing size of volume, specimens of type, engravings, etc., for the sole and exclusive use of himself and regularly authorized agents. Mr. Ruggles will make his invention known probably in the fall.

PORTER & COATES have a large number of important works in preparation for the fall, among which are the "Life of Oliver Cromwell," by Henry Wm. Herbert; "Henry VIII. and His Six Wives," by Henry Wm. Herbert; "Life of Andrew Jackson," by John S. Jenkins; "Life of Zachary Taylor," by H. Montgomery; "Life of Lady Jane Grey," by David W. Bartlett, and other standard biographies.

REVISED editions of Farrar's valuable guides to "Moosehead Lake and the North Maine Wilderness," and to "Richardson and Rangeley Lakes," have been published by Messrs. Lee & Shepard. Sixteen pages of new reading matter and several illustrations have been added to the "Moosehead" book, and in both guides, the time-tables on trains and steamboats, and the information generally, have been brought down to the latest moment before publication.

THE publication by Jas. R. Osgood & Co. of Renan's "English Conferences" deserves to be put on record as a remarkable piece of quick book-making. Mr. Osgood obtained the French copy on a Thursday. He at once made up his mind to bring out the book ahead of all American competitors. He called on Mr. Clement, the author of "Artists of the Nineteenth Century," who promised him the translation of the lecture on Marcus Aurelius for Friday morning, and then assured him that the whole copy should be ready for the printer on Monday. The manuscript was in hand when Monday came, and Rand, Avery & Co. had the book printed, stereotyped, folded and ready for the binder on Wednesday. On Thursday, at 5 P.M., the edition was ready for the market, and a book of 169 pages, 16mo, with workmanship that bears no marks of haste, was beginning to go out by mail and express to all parts of the country. Three weeks is the time usually taken for a book of this size, and even that is counted rapid work.

AMONG the books in press, by G. P. Putnam's Sons, which may be looked for early in the fall, we notice "Learning to Draw; or, The Story of a Young Artist," by Viollet le Duc, translated by Virginia Champlin; "The Loyal Ronins," an historical novel, translated from the Japanese by Edward Greey and Shishiro Saito, which will be bound with a very striking and attractive cover, from a novel Japanese design, similar to that on the "Chiusline Gura," a Chinese epic, published by them some years ago; "The Teacher's Dream," by W. H. Venable, author of "June on the Miami," with illustrations by Farley; a series of papers on "Hints for Home Reading," by Edward Everett Hale, F. B. Perkins, H. W. Beecher, Chas. Dudley Warner, Joseph Cook, Lyman Abbott, M. J. Sweetser, Cyrus Hamlin, H. W. Mabie and others, edited by Lyman Abbott, together with a new edition of "Suggestions for Libraries," with first, second and third lists of 500, 500 and 1000 volumes, recommended as the most important and desirable, forming volume 18 in Putnam's Handy-Book Series; "Certain Forms of Nervous Derangement," by Wm. A. Hammond, M.D., which is a new and much altered edition, with new material added, of "Spiritualism and Other Forms of Mental Derangement," which has been long out of print; "The Worst Boy in Town," by John Habberton; and "The Creation and the Early Development of Mankind," by Prof. J. H. Chapin, of St. Lawrence University; Prof. E. H. Palmer's "Haroun Alraschid and Civilization" will be fifth, and Edward Dicey's "Victor Emanuel and the Attainment of Italian Unity" will be sixth in the New Plutarch series.

A MEMOIR of Mr. Bradlaugh, which will contain particulars furnished by himself of his early struggles, will be published in the course of a few weeks in England.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just ready at their London house the fourth and last volume of "Green's History of the English People," bringing the story down to the year of Waterloo.

E. WOLFF & SON, London, have still further improved their "Audascript" pen. The "Audascript," a substitute for the quill, has a point which is not split and will hold more ink than an ordinary nib, and will write on any side.

SALVAGE.

The Fifth Volume of the "No Name (Second) Series." 16mo, green cloth, black and gilt. Price, $1.

It is a novel beginning and ending on terra firma, but whose main incidents transpire on a steamer which was wrecked on the passage between Liverpool and New York. Its interest is of the most intense kind, quite equal to that remarkable story, "The Wreck of the Grosvenor." "Salvage" is the first sea story included in the widely popular "No Name Series" of novels. — Literary News.

WHO IS YOUR WIFE?

A Complex Conundrum Colloquially Considered.
By WALDORF H. PHILLIPS.

"Do you take this woman to be your wife—until you are divorced?"

"Do you take this man to be your husband—until you change your mind?"

"Then, them whom I unite, let some Court put asunder."

The work is full of humor and keen satire.

Price, in paper binding, 50 cents; in cloth, 75 cents.

"THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST."

We announced last season our belief in the above expression as applied to the shoal of Juvenile Books offered the trade. Our experience leads us to re-affirm our belief in it. Notwithstanding the fact that our books were out late, and many refused to buy them because they had overstocked themselves with those first offered, our sales reached the enormous number of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Volumes, and we were unable to supply all of the demand. We point to the above facts as proof that our Juvenile Books are among the very best offered, and we desire to have the trade understand that we have new books in press that are unequalled by any heretofore published.

ONE WORD OF CAUTION.

We wish to remind the trade that it takes time to manufacture new books, and it is fair to suppose that any one who offers his line considerably in advance of all others is offering old books, or books under new titles which are a rehash of old material. Our line will this season be ready earlier than heretofore, and dealers will do well to withhold their orders until they can examine it. It will comprise The New Chatterbox, a New Volume of The Zigzag Series, a New Book by the Author of Babyhood, and many other fine Juvenile Books.

AMONG OTHER IMPORTANT PUBLICATIONS WE SHALL ISSUE:

New and Greatly Improved Editions of Dickens' Works.

"THE PEOPLE'S EDITION."

This edition is printed from long primer type, leaded and spaced, making it equal in reading to small pica set solid, and makes three thousand more pages than the best editions heretofore offered in the same number of volumes. It contains all of the authorized works, some reprinted pieces to be found in no other editions, and over 200 illustrations on steel and wood by Cruikshank, Phiz, Barnard, Darley and others. Fifteen vols., 12mo. Printed at the University Press, Cambridge, on fine tinted and super-calendered paper made expressly for this work. Bound in cloth extra, black and gilt stamp, $22.50; any volume sold separately, $1.50.

Dickens' Works. "The University Edition."

The same as described above. Bound in maroon cloth, gilt tops, uniform with "The University Edition" of Shakspeare and the "Riverside Poets." Fifteen vols., sold in sets only, $25; half calf, extra, $50.

Dickens' Works. "The Cambridge Edition."

The best and most profusely illustrated American edition yet offered. Printed at the Cambridge University Press from large type, on fine heavy tinted paper made expressly for the work, and containing over 650 steel plates and woodcuts from designs by Cruikshank, Phiz, Harvey, Barnard, Darley, De Neuville, Bayard and others, many of which can be found in no other editions either American or Foreign. Thirty vols., dark-green cloth, gilt tops, $45; half calf, extra, $100.

Dickens' Child's History of England. Popular Edition.

An entirely new edition from new electrotypes plates made and printed at "The University Press," large type, fine tinted paper. 12mo, 24 illustrations. Cloth, black and gilt, $1.

Dickens' Child's History of England.

Holiday edition, with 100 fine illustrations by De Neuville, Emile Bayard, F. Lix and others. 12mo, cloth, bevelled and gilt extra, $2.50; half calf, $4; full morocco, $6. The most elegant edition of this popular work ever produced in Europe or America.

Character Sketches from Dickens.

A series of new designs by Fred Barnard, reproduced in artistic etchings by S. A. Schoff, and others. These have been etched for the "University" and "Cambridge" editions of Dickens, and a limited number of Artists' Proofs on India paper have been taken in advance. Price in a neat portfolio, $3.

Do not fail to see samples of these unequalled editions before placing your orders.
